

Convincing Reasons Why You Will Like The Craig Kennedy Detective Books

In these days men need mental recreation that invigorates and refreshes the mind. Great physicians, jurists, editors, men in all walks of life, turn to the Craig Kennedy Detective Books for the thrills that bring mental rest.

"The tense interest of these books never relaxes," says the Chicago-Record Herald.

"Men and women, too, who read these unusual tales will find themselves unconsciously gaining a great deal of scientific knowledge that will broaden their outlook," says the Philadelphia Press.

"But for all his array of batteries and microscopes it is really Mr. Reeve's very lively imagination which keeps one anxious to know what extraordinary thing is going to happen next, forbidding any pause until the tale is finished. Only those few superior people who cannot enjoy detective stories will fail to be interested and entertained," says the New York Times.

MRS. POTTER PALMER "ROUGHING IT" IN WEST

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Aug. 29.—Mrs. Potter Palmer, Chicago society leader, is "roughing it" on a small cattle ranch beyond Sheridan. Her horsemanship and her skill in whipping the mountain streams for trout have won the admiration of her guides.

Tepee Lodge is the name of the ranch which is 20 miles from the nearest railroad station. Aside from tea at 5 o'clock sharp and a French maid, Mrs. Palmer has adapted herself entirely to the "Wild West" life—even to a morning plunge in the cold mountain stream, which, with an old-fashioned tin wash tub, it is said, constitute the only bathing facilities.

Mrs. Palmer is enthusiastic over mountain climbing, and no trail is too rough or hazardous for her.

SLAYER RAVES AND

Deberry, Deberry was taken to the jail here.

On August 14, Attorney Martin, husband of the victim of this terrible tragedy, dropped dead at West Baden, Ind. He was 60 years old, and had gone away seeking relief from the shock of the tragedy.

"I did not try to rob Mrs. Martin, I went upstairs to kill her," was the confession of Deberry to the police. "I was crazy from drinking gin. She made me mad by asking me to wash the dinner dishes, when I wanted to go down town. I killed her with a poker. I followed her upstairs to do it. I don't know how many times I hit her. 'What are you doing up here? Are you drunk?' she asked me. The feeling to kill went all over me."

Since his confinement in jail here, Deberry has pleaded for death, for any relief from the ghosts that haunt him. "They can eat me to pieces, they can hang me, burn me, shoot me dead, and I won't say nothing. But let me get it over with quick."

"I see her everywhere. I can't get away from her. I see her eyes and they are big and round and scared, and they haunt me. I wake up screaming and can't get to sleep again."

COWLES DIVORCE CASE

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Aug. 29.—The Cowles divorce case in which society men and women are named as correspondents, is set for hearing tomorrow before Judge Pike. Mrs. Florence B. Cowles, the Brookline wife of Dr. Edwin S. Cowles of this city, has recently yielded to her divorce. The names of Miss Florence Murphy of Boston, one-time patient of the doctor, Miss Faith Marsh, a society girl of Winchester, Mass., and Mrs. Anne Wright of Westport, Conn., also formerly a patient of Dr. Cowles, in a recent issue of the Boston Herald, have been published. Dr. Cowles is a physician, and Harry Webster, a wealthy banker of Brattleboro, Vt.

The Cowles divorce trial is expected to be the most sensational heard in New England in many years. Cowles is a Virginian, and operates a sanatorium here. He figured in a row at the Boston Navy Yard some years ago, which resulted in a court martial of two young naval officers who knocked him down.

FROM THE EDUCATOR'S NOTEBOOK

WILMINGTON, Del.—With a view to making the citizenship of Delaware a model for other states to follow, the United States Bureau of Education has selected it as the survey field to carry out many educational ideas. The government will send a staff of nearly sixty experts in various lines during September to conduct the extensive September to conduct a period of several years. U. S. Commissioner of Education Dr. P. H. Clayton is especially interested in the project.

The survey is the greatest yet taken in education by the federal government. When it is completed, the vast amount of data that will have been accumulated will be digested by another staff of experts. Not only will this furnish the basis of improvement of educational methods in this state, but it will solve the similar problems of other states.

The first section of the survey will be undertaken by Dr. Arthur W. Dunn and assistants from the Bureau of Education, who will spend the entire year in Delaware demonstrating the plan of teaching community civics. This will mean the instruction in the public schools of the state of the pupils of all ages above 12. Then there will be an industrial survey to determine the educational opportunities of workers and the best methods to meet conditions. Also a rural school survey will be under way, also a rural church survey. The deficiencies of the state will also be studied and tabbed, and another corps will study the negro question in Delaware.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The government of Venezuela has accepted 110 scholarships in 77 of the best institutions of learning in the United States. Negotiations for the last college term by Hon. Preston McGowan, U. S. Minister to Venezuela and the heads of the various colleges and universities in this country. The 110 young men and young women will begin their courses next month. The result sought is the closer knitting of the cultural relations between the two countries. In the past 80 years, it is said that fewer than a dozen Venezuelans have been educated in the United States, principally on account of lack of sympathy in Americans with their South American neighbors. It is expected that the tide of education which flowed between Europe and the Latin republic will now set in toward the American institutions.

CHICAGO, Prof. Jaro MacArthur of the University of Illinois has presented a plan for the training of college men in citizenship that might be expected to react beneficially on the life of town and city. The course involves the study of the home towns or cities from where the men come. Population, housing, and nationalities are looked into in a way that keeps the student in touch with his home town affairs and he grows better able to receive and to profit by his theoretical classroom training.

DRUGGISTS WHACK LAWS

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 29.—An attack on patent laws that are declared to inflate prices and prevent research work in medicine will be made at the convention of the National Association of Retail Druggists, which will open here tomorrow morning for a week of activity. A demand for changes in the patent laws will be urged by the Minnesota association. It is expected that the national association will consolidate with the American Pharmaceutical association, already associated with the American Association of Druggists. The changes in the drug laws, the regulation of alcohol sales, and other important matters will be taken up.

FOURTEEN PALLBEARERS FOR 500-POUND BODY

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 29.—Fourteen men staggered under the largest and heaviest funeral casket ever constructed in this city when they bore the 500-pound body of Frank Griess up the steps of St. Stephen's Catholic church, where mass was said by Rev. Father Hannigan.

Twice to the tremendous proportions of the dead man it was found necessary to have a special casket constructed for the body. The coffin was of solid mahogany and the inside measurements were 32 inches wide, 35 inches high and 6 feet 5 inches long, while the weight was 180 pounds.

No clothing suitable for burial purposes and of sufficient size for the dead man could be found, so the body was wrapped in a shroud. Griess' waist measure was 64 inches. Griess succumbed to heart disease. He is survived by a widow and three children.

ARE BURGLARS SEEKING

As the burglar probably had little cause for alarm and was able to work without fear of interruption, the fact that such articles were not taken leaves the purpose of the visits very much in doubt.

On the other hand papers of every description were thoroughly inspected, letters removed from their envelopes and strewn upon the floor. With the possible exception of the burglary of the home of Con P. Cronin, state law librarian, the intruder seemed to have taken his own time.

There are at the present time upwards of a dozen state officials or employees holding high position who are absent from the city. So far as known, however, the homes of Con Cronin, State Treasurer Mr. Sims and Superintendent of Public Instruction C. C. Case, who is also a member of the board of pardons and paroles, have been burglarized. The home of Miss Christie Gilchrist, superintendent of the Associated Charities, was entered recently. A room in the house is occupied by Mrs. M. G. Burns, who during the recent session of the legislature held a clerical position. Another house in the same neighborhood was entered, but nothing taken. It may have been that the "burglar" mistook the house for that of some state official and did not discover his mistake until he began ransacking letters and papers.

The police are endeavoring by every means to solve the mystery, but so far have had but little to work upon. Late last night the police received a report that the home of R. C. Saffley, 92 West Linwood, had been entered and robbed.

The burglars secured as a result of their depredations, a .45 caliber Colt revolver, a diamond stud, a pearl ring, an Elk emblem ring, an Elgin ladies' watch, $4.00 in silver, and $3.00 in dimes, which they fled from a child's bank.

No clue to the thieves has thus far developed.

SWISS FRONTIER CLOSED

ZURICH, Aug. 29.—The Austro-Swiss frontier has been closed by Austria. Important troop transfers are in progress.

The socialist newspaper Volksrecht publishes today what purports to be the memorial presented to the German reichstag by the Neus Vaterland society protesting against the territorial annexation proposals made by some German leaders. It asserts "It is madness to imagine that Germany can conquer Great Britain and Russia."

SHE INTRODUCES SURPLICE COATS TO THE SMART SET

Mrs. Richard Stevens wearing a surplice coat.

The social elite who attended the recent tennis tournament at Newport stared in amazement at Mrs. Richard Stevens when she appeared wearing one of the finest surplice lace coats. There isn't a doubt but the innovation is going to become popular, not only in exclusive society but even among those who are not so fortunate, or otherwise, as to travel in the "smart set."

ITALY HOPES MORE U. S. WARSHIPS WILL BE SENT TO TURKEY

ROME, Aug. 29.—Appreciation is expressed here in government circles and by the people of the "rightly burdened" Italy, by the American embassy at Constantinople in the protection of Italian interests in Turkey. "Italy" hopes are expressed that the United States will send additional warships to render the representations of Ambassador Morgenthau effective.

Many Italians are employed as laborers in the interior of the Turkish empire remote from the direct influence of American consuls.

GREAT CHURCH CONGRESS

of its congregation and set to work removing the third second and first mortgages. He built the congregation up to a membership of 1200 after having preached on the first Sunday to two men, six women and their children. He adopted the motto, "Plant a Church a Year," and the Hammond church is parent to nine other congregations in the neighboring cities and communities as a result.

Rev. Sharp established a Sunday school, baseball team and acts as manager; stages an opera every year; operates a building and loan with the congregation; conducts a real estate exchange for members; has a "barn-raising" crew which goes forth and builds a church building complete between sunrise and sunset, and when the congregation is in session will show the ministers the virtues of moving pictures in church services. He introduced the movies several years ago and to this attraction added a jitney service to and from Sunday school from distant parts of the city.

Three special trains will bring congress attendants from Cincinnati, Ohio; Kansas City, Mo.; and Des Moines, Iowa, respectively. Parties have been formed in Canton, Ohio; Springfield, Mo.; Dubuque, Iowa; and Cleveland, Ohio, and special cars will be reserved.

There will be sixteen simultaneous sessions of the congress every hour of the day except at times set aside for assemblies and lectures. For the latter three churches are to be used, F. W. Burnham of Cincinnati, Ohio, is to speak on "Our Plan and the World Crisis." Other lectures and topics follow:

"Preach the Word," J. A. Lord, Milton, Oregon.

"The Call of the Country Church," Oscar E. Kelley, Terre Haute, Ind.

"The Restoration Movement," R. J. Radford, Eureka, Ill.

There are thirty platform lecturers and more than a hundred classroom instructors.

C. J. Sharp of Hammond, Arthur Highby of St. Paul's Episcopal church, Canton, Ohio, and J. H. Smith of Little Rock, Ark., will speak Thursday forenoon and the congress visitors are then to be taken in 500 automobiles to the steel mills at Indiana Harbor and Gary for a tour of inspection.

Mrs. T. W. Phillips of Newcastle, Ind., widow of the millionaire oil operator; Mrs. A. R. Atwater of St. Louis, Mo., president of the Christian Women's Benevolent association, and other prominent women will be present.

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENTS MEET AT OAKLAND

OAKLAND, Aug. 29.—The last of the big educational conventions at Oakland is that of the Association of State University Presidents, which will open tomorrow morning. It is expected that the criticism of the big universities for their opposition to the national university at Washington, will be renewed. It was brought out at the Washington meeting last November that some of the biggest universities have been opposing the foundation of a great national university, to be maintained by the United States government. It is charged that the big universities have brought influence to bear to table the bill introduced by Congressman Fess of Ohio, which would provide for the great American national university, for research work at Washington.

JOHN D. "PRODIGAL SON"

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH]

CLEVELAND, Aug. 27.—John D. Rockefeller referred to himself as the prodigal son after listening to a sermon on the subject at the Euclid Avenue Baptist church.

After Rev. Samuel Lindsay of Bellevue, Pa., a former assistant to the pastor of the church, spoke, Rockefeller said: "You are right, I can see myself as a prodigal son. You may be able to beat me at preaching but you can't beat me at golf."

BRITAIN RESTRICTS COAL

LONDON, Aug. 27.—The new restrictions on shipment of British coal go into effect tomorrow. They chiefly effect the supply to the allies of Great Britain. Hereafter the allies must secure their coal elsewhere. No British coal can now be exported, except to British possessions and protectorates.
